

Fixed total sample n ; a fixed κ -neighbourhood captures more foreign-class points as class count K grows

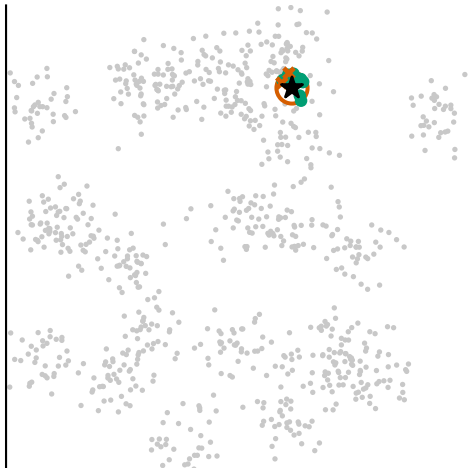

$K = 6$ ($n/K \approx 150$ per class)

0 of 12 nearest neighbours are foreign

$K = 24$ ($n/K \approx 37$ per class)

2 of 12 nearest neighbours are foreign

$K = 90$ ($n/K \approx 10$ per class)

8 of 12 nearest neighbours are foreign

